WORK EXPERIENCE

Lake Institute on Faith and Giving at the Lilly Family School of Philanthropy, Indiana University 2013–2014

Muslim Philanthropy Consultant

Redesigned the Executive Certificate in Religious Fundraising to be relevant for Muslim American nonprofit managers and leaders.

Indiana University School of Education 2011–2013
Director of Development

Served as the major gifts officer. Worked with the Executive Associate Dean of the school to determine a development strategy that aligned with the school’s priorities of international travel and minority recruitment. Increased the number of endowed scholarships and helped steward the first RISE named scholarship.

Saeed and Little, Indianapolis, Indiana 2011–2019
Off Counsel

Responsible for cases related to nonprofit organizations, immigration, arbitration, and mediation issues.

Julian Center, Indianapolis, Indiana 2005–2011

Director, Legal Services

Established a legal services program in the state's largest domestic violence shelter; the program later became a full department within the organization. Collaborated with the development director to secure the organization's largest federal grant, which enabled the department to hire more attorneys and recruit more volunteers to serve victims of domestic violence. Responsible for managing the department; for overseeing cases, public education, and outreach; and for collaboration with other area agencies.

Muslim Alliance of Indiana, Indianapolis, Indiana

2006–2011

Executive Director

Responsible for all aspects of the organization, including programs, communication strategy, development, publications, and staff. In this role, helped the organization become one of the most influential Muslim American nonprofits in the state, one recognized as a critical interfaith partner for advocating for social justice issues.

Islamic Society of North America, Indianapolis, Indiana

1999–2004

Director, Special Projects

Responsible for development, community outreach, and programs. Worked with Indiana University to develop the Fellowship on Nonprofit Management and Governance. Also responsible for the establishment of the largest professional development conferences for nonprofit K–12 Islamic schools and Islamic centers. Served as chief of staff to the secretary general in the last year of service.
