Excited for Fall 21...

"I am thrilled that we will be coming back to campus and I look forward to welcoming each and every one of you. I hope you too are excited to gather and welcome each other as we join in the adventure of discovery. There is so much to learn and do, with our amazing faculty, and each other. What are you most looking forward to? What are your concerns? Let me know. Email me, or tell me person in the coming weeks."

Alum Spotlight

Meet our fabulous alum, Taylor Parker. Taylor told us a bit about their experience at LFSOP...

"My time as an undergraduate at LFSOP was life-changing! It was a pleasure to learn from leaders in our field while also contributing to the work that will continue to lay the foundation for Philanthropic Studies as an academic discipline. I am so grateful for the time and effort my undergraduate professors invested in me and my education."

Their advice for other students is "Do all you can to remember your strength and value. You have loved yourself into this moment, and you owe yourself gratitude and grace for all of the work you have done to get yourself where you are. You are so loved and valued by people near and far."
